Our Annual Appeal: Gifts Shared and Multiplied

CHRIST OF THE BREADLINES (1953) BY FRITZ EICHENBERG

by Julia Occhiogrosso

The winter mornings are dark. As we drive up to the soupline, I can barely make out the shadowy silhouettes of men and women. I strain for a glimpse of a familiar face. The morning light fills in the details. I see a picture of humanity's fragile courage waiting patiently to be fed with soup and compassion.

When I go out to the soupline I am frequently given an image, a word, a grateful gesture or a conversation that works inside me like a seed, slowly, gradually helping me become someone new. This morning it was Alex, sitting with his blanket wrapped around his shoulder like a king. His stocking cap was hanging to one side and his gray whiskers were poking out of his cheeks. His smile and greetings are always warm and child like. I follow his stare into the distance looking for answers to my own questions of life's uncertainties.

I am continually moved by the gestures of gratitude that are given to us. Presently there is a mystery man from the streets who insists on stuffing a dollar or two into the palm of my hand after eating his bowl of soup. The last time I saw him, as he was walking away from me after placing a crumpled bill in my hand, he hollered back proudly "take a look, it's a five dollar bill this time!"

How is it that we are given so much by those who, by the world's standards, have nothing to offer? In our nineteenth year of providing soup and compassion to those on the margins we come to you once again with our annual appeal to help us give back to the poor some of what they have given to us.

We need your financial assistance to fund our soupline, food box project, Hospitality days (weekly showers, laundry services and a homestyle meal served at the Catholic Worker house to seven homeless guests). We also need help with the costs of our annual Thanksgiving and Christmas breakfast feasts. Your faithful support is a true gift to the poor and homeless citizens of Las Vegas.

"The ultimate weakness of violence is that it is a descending spiral, begetting the very thing it seeks to destroy... Returning violence for violence multiplies violence, adding deeper darkness to a night already devoid of stars. Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate; only love can do that."
